“Morning By Morning New Mercies We See?” - Dr. Russhawn Aldridge

The beauty and mercies of the Lord Jesus Christ presented in the gospel are certainly evident in his gift of salvation. They can also be embraced and appropriated as a source of life and godliness every single day. The bible tells us that we should continue in our faith, established and firm in our hope (Col 1:23). So, how do we remain steadfast, unmovable, and faithful when the world around us is increasingly chaotic

“God’s Grace During Difficult Times” - Drs. Bill and Angie

Life is difficult, but God's grace is sufficient. We will talk about how serving long-term with CVM has taught us about receiving and sharing God's grace during day-to-day struggles and during hard times.

“Biblical Relationships / Dating 101” -Drs. Richard and Celia Thompson

Richard and Celia will explore God’s original design for marriage in Genesis, discuss what Scripture has to say about dating, and share practical advice. Who you marry is the most important decision you will make with the exception of your decision to accept Jesus Christ as your Lord and Savior. Come learn scriptural principles that can guide you in this decision.

“Sharing Christ Without Fear” - Dr. Lee Myers

Ever felt a nudge to share about Christ, and yet you passed on the opportunity? Perhaps you don’t feel equipped with the words to say? Or, you are afraid of the reaction you will receive? Come learn some simple tools that will help you overcome your fear, so that you can confidently share your story and the good news of Christ’s saving grace.
